

the ONE sharing my View of God

by Guru Mani H

To me God is like Santa Claus
I think of once a year though when I tell him what I want he never seems to hear

To me God is a swear word that I'm using quite a bit if others are offended then I couldn't give a shit

To me God is for old people who now they're close to death reflect on what might happen when they've gasped their final breath

To me God is a fairy tale a made-up fantasy some old-time hero stories with no place in history

To me God is a policeman who just never seems to sleep he's always there to punish if his laws I do not keep

To me God is the one who loves accepts me as I am on good days and on crappy ones he is my biggest fan

To me God is a Zimmer frame that weaker people need a thing for them to lean on which can help them to succeed

To me God simply doesn't care in someone such as me I'm nobody important so he'd nothing in me see

To me God is in churches all the modern ones and old with those inside believing the great lie that they've been sold

To me God is for others but what makes my face turn red is when they try to shove their views on all of us instead

To me God is dictator where the people have no voice “Believe in me or go to hell” is not much of a choice

To me God is forgiveness so to him I have confessed it's given me a brand-new start and wiped away my mess

To me God is from times gone by it's relevant no more let's leave it all back in the past behind a padlocked door

To me God is so distant
with totally no interest in the things I do and say

To me God is my closest friend who's with me every day he knows my deepest secrets yet he hasn't run away

To me God is the one to blame for suffering and pain why doesn't he just stop it and bring happiness again?

To me God just does not exist and scientists agree there's not a speck of evidence to prove how he could be

To me God is an old man with a beard that's white and long who sits all day upon a cloud while angels sing their song

To me God is for children small to read in picture book who when a little older will not take another look

To me God is the one who saved he turned my life around when I was sinking in the pit he lifted me to ground

To me God is irrelevant to all I do and say I never stop to give him thought as I go through my day

To me God is the reason and the one who I believe the focal point of all I do the very air I breathe
